

Overview

During the month, Israel, the occupying Power, continued its genocidal aggression against the Gaza Strip by committing more crimes against defenseless civilians, destroying homes over the residents' heads, and targeting displaced people in shelter centers and displacement tents, as well as targeting them directly while they awaited aid convoys. Additionally, the Israeli occupying forces (IOF) conducted arbitrary arrests and torture against children, women, and men, and threats and intimidation were used against them if they refused to cooperate during their investigation; sexual assault of Palestinian women was one of the most obscene aspects of these violations. The IOF also continued to besiege and target the remaining hospitals in Khan Yunis in the southern Gaza Strip, including Al-Amal Hospital, Nasser Medical Complex, the European Hospital, and everything that moves in their vicinity. In parallel to its genocidal aggression on the Gaza Strip, the occupying Power escalated its aggression against the West Bank, including occupied Jerusalem, where the IOF fired live bullets at Palestinians, arrested many young men and children, and abused them and their families, in addition to armed settler gangs carrying out several terrorist attacks against Palestinian civilians and their properties.

Examples of the occupying Power deliberately targeting Palestinian hospitals and civilians awaiting aid trucks in Gaza during February 2024 include the following:

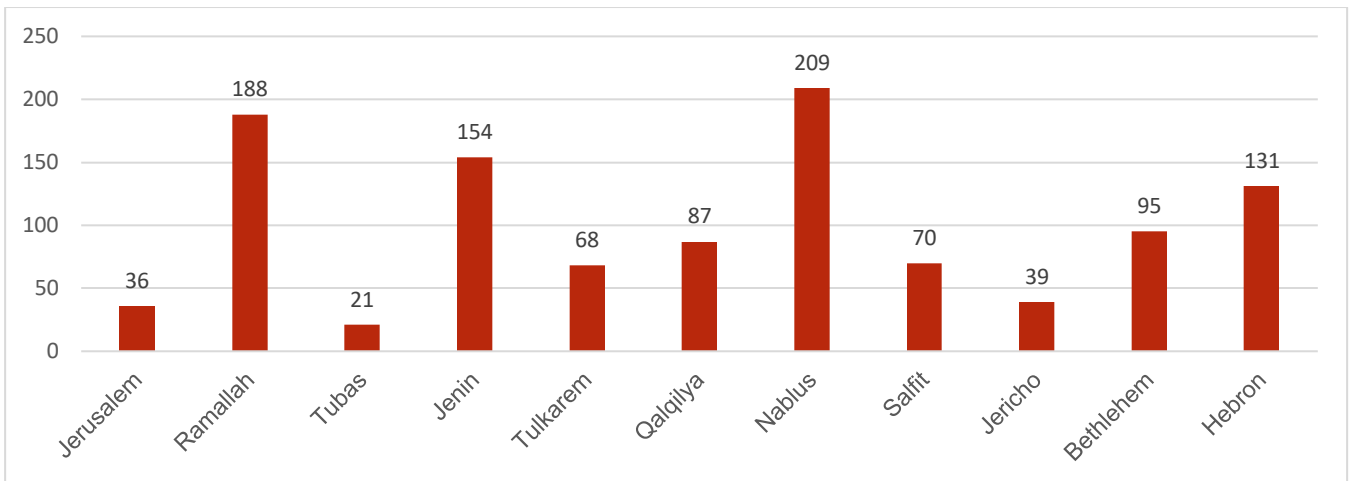

- The "Flour Massacre" on Al-Rashid Street: at dawn on 29 February, the IOF stationed on the coastal road Harun al-Rashid in the Sheikh Ajlin area, west of Gaza City, fired their tanks directly at a gathering of hundreds of Palestinians from the northern Gaza Strip, specifically from Gaza City, Jabalia, and Beit Hanoun, while they were waiting for aid trucks, which usually include flour. According to the Palestinian Ministry of Health, 104 Palestinians were killed, and more than 750 were injured. The occupation tanks also ran over a large number of Palestinians while they were alive, in addition to the bodies of the martyrs thrown in the street, and thus, the aid trucks turned into trucks carrying the bodies of hundreds of martyrs and the wounded. Despite widespread international condemnation, the occupation authorities denied responsibility for the flour massacre, claiming that they had been killed in a "stampede." In his comment on the massacre, Colombian President Gustavo Petro said: "This is called genocide and is reminiscent of the Holocaust even if the world powers do not like to recognize it. The world must block Netanyahu. Colombia suspends all purchases of weapons from Israel."
- Continuing the siege of Al-Amal Hospital and storming it: On 10 February, the IOF stormed Al-Amal Hospital affiliated with the Palestinian Red Crescent in Khan Yunis, stole all the keys to the ambulances and administrative vehicles, and locked the steering wheel to prevent the crew from operating the vehicles in light of the continued siege and targeting of the hospital since last January. According to the Executive Director of the Palestinian Red Crescent Society in the Gaza Strip, Dr. Bashar Murad, the IOF stormed the hospital, arrested the medical staff, including surgical and anesthesia consultants, and prevented the entry of oxygen. Israeli warplanes also opened fire on every moving person and ambulance, killing approximately 43 displaced persons and medical personnel.
